TRAVEL TIPS

WHEN TO GO

Singapore's tropical climate is hot and humid all year round and is affected by two different monsoon periods. The Northeast Monsoon season takes place from December to March with frequent rain. The Southwest Monsoon season falls between May and September and is marginally dryer. Soak up the lively atmosphere during the months of July to September when many festivals such as the Singapore Food Festival and the Great Singapore Sale are in full swing.

Malaysia has a tropical climate with high temperatures and high humidity throughout the year. Monsoon season for the south-west is from May to September and the north-east from November to March. On the west coast, the green months are May to October, while on the east coast, the green months are September to December. Enjoy the lush countryside and bountiful waterfalls when visiting after the green season.

ETIQUETTE

In respect for local traditions and religious beliefs, arms and legs should be covered and shoes removed when visiting places of worship. Food should be handled with the right hand. Topless sunbathing (by women) is not permitted. Pointing with the foot is not considered polite.

VISAS & PASSPORTS

All travellers to Singapore and Malaysia must carry a passport valid for at least six months beyond the date of departure from Australia. As visa information can change at any time, we recommend you seek advice regarding passports, visas and other travel requirements for the countries you intend visiting from the Australian Government at smartraveller.gov.au.

Singapore, Bintan Island and Malaysia include a large Muslim population. Ramadan is observed by many throughout these countries and we recommend you make yourself aware of how that may affect your travel. Daytime is often quieter, business hours are generally shorter with restaurants and cafés screened off or closed out of respect for those who are fasting. Ramadan is from February 28 to Saturday March 29 in 2025 and from February 17 to 18 March in 2026.

LANGUAGES

Malay, English, Mandarin and Tamil are the official languages of Singapore. Bahasa Malaysia (Malay) is the official language of Malaysia, however English is widely spoken. Bahasa Indonesia is the official language of Bintan Island. English is widely spoken particularly in major towns and resort areas.

TIME

Singapore and Malaysia are both two hours behind Australia Eastern Standard Time (AEST).
